DREAM >> DARE >> DELIVER

A manager is a decision maker, one who credits the team for the right decisions and shoulders the responsibility for the consequences of the wrong ones! Management education is much more than a collection of Finance, Marketing, HR and Operations courses wrapped up in a degree and a grade card. It is that exquisite blend of analysis and synthesis, ethics and ambition, vision and compassion that the Central India College of Business Management & Studies brings together in the effective and articulate managers who pass out through its portals every year.

Common people wonder why? Visionaries are those who wonder why not? But unfortunately those who can visualize a new reality are vastly outnumbered by those who cannot. Central India College of Business Management & Studies is the place where students are encouraged to dream—about new and innovative ways that can change the world for the better. Vision without action can degenerate into hallucination, but CICBMS students are equipped with the tools, techniques and the crucial confidence to actually dare to deliver on the dream—as testified to by the summer projects as well as the large number of extracurricular activities that are integral to life at CICBMS, Nagpur.

A B-school was never meant to be a substitute for a placement agency but nevertheless, zeitgeist mandates that schools be measured on the quantum and quality of its placements. In the past, CICBMS has had the privilege of having some of the best corporate names in the country on its recruiter list and now as India envisions its place at the high table of international business, CICBMS students are ready and prepared to do whatever it takes to turn that vision into a reality.
